The Chief Justice said:

“Before I call the first case for argument, I would like to make a part of the record of this Court an exchange of correspondence between the Court and Justice Powell upon his retirement. Our letter to Justice Powell which is signed by his eight colleagues and his response will be made a part of the Journal of today’s proceedings.”

Our letter to Justice Powell reads as follows:

Supreme Court of the United States,
Washington, D.C., June 29, 1987.
Chambers of the Chief Justice

Dear Lewis,

You know without our telling you again how saddened we are by your departure from our ranks. For more than fifteen years we have benefited from your wise and careful marshaling of arguments in Conference, and from your shouldering Term after Term of more than your share of the Court’s opinion writing. All of us admire your extraordinary capacity to forcefully participate in our private and public debates without ever allowing advocacy to degenerate into contentiousness.

Your career in the legal profession before coming here was replete with laurels. Thirty years of successful law practice, wartime service overseas in Air Force Intelligence, President of the American Bar Association, President of the Richmond School Board were but some of your accomplishments. The lessons from a life so rich in experience informed your judgment as a member of the Court.

We bid you a fond farewell as you retire from this last arena in which you have served your profession and served your country. We are grateful for, and look forward to, the prospect of your continued companionship in the future.

Affectionately,
 William H. Rehnquist.
 William J. Brennan, Jr.
 Byron R. White.
 Thurgood Marshall.
 Harry A. Blackmun.
 John Paul Stevens.
 Sandra O'Connor.
 Antonin Scalia

Justice Powell's response reads as follows:

Supreme Court of the United States,
 Washington, D.C., July 10, 1987.

Chambers of Justice Lewis F. Powell, Jr. (Retired)

Dear Colleagues:

Your gracious letter of June 29 was forwarded to me here in Richmond. It is a letter I am proud to share with Jo and our children, and one I shall always treasure.

I can add little to what I said in my statement of June 26. I do leave the Court with a considerable measure of sadness. I have been privileged to serve on a strong Court, and also I have cherished the friendship I have shared with each of you. This, of course, will continue although I will miss more than I can say the day to day participation in the work of the Court.

With admiration and affection for each of you.

Sincerely,
 Lewis.

ORDERS IN PENDING CASES

No. —. Carlton A. Hodges, Petitioner v. United States, et al. The motion to direct the Clerk to file the petition for writ of certiorari, out-of-time, is denied.

A-763. Modjeski & Masters, Applicant v. Jan R. Carter, et al. The application for stay filed with Justice White and referred by him to the Court, is hereby granted, and the temporary stay entered by Justice White on April 15, 1988, is vacated.

The judgments of the Louisiana Court of Appeal for the Fourth Circuit and the Louisiana Civil District Court for the Parish of Orleans are stayed pending the timely docketing of an appeal by appellants in the above-entitled case. Should such an appeal be so timely docketed, this order is to continue pending this Court's action on the jurisdictional statement or further disposition of such appeal.

This order is conditioned upon the timely posting with the Louisiana Civil District Court for the Parish of Orleans of a good and sufficient bond in the amount of $700,000 plus interest from April 15, 1988, by appellant Modjeski & Masters, covering any potential obligations under the judgment of the Louisiana Civil District Court for the Parish of Orleans. Unless and until Modjeski & Masters posts said bond, the stay is expressly conditioned on appellant's taking no action to reduce its current net worth and, in particular, not:

- (A) distributing any earnings of the firm to its partners who continue to work for the firm, except as they have been receiving heretofore in salary and benefits or as provided in (B) and (D) below, or
- (B) distributing any earnings of the firm to its partners for so long as the net worth of the firm is below $700,000, or
